THE TOWN'S PEOPLE

MRS. GEORGE GREENLAW
Shares Flower Show Honors

Mrs. George Greenlaw shares honors for the beautiful Flower Show yesterday in Robbins Memorial Town Hall with Mrs. O. Walter Swanson, the chairman. Orchids go to Mrs. Greenlaw, both as president of the Arlington Garden Club whose show it was and as arranger of the attractive plot of exotic plants which were the center attraction.

Anyone who knows Mrs. Greenlaw—and many people do—will guess at once that the plants in this exhibit came from her greenhouses where begonias and geraniums flourish. She has nearly three hundred begonias and over 250 geraniums, including over seventy-five scented ones. Her collection of cacti, she says, is comparatively small. Where she once had over 700, she now has only 400.

Her hobby, of course, is flowers—a nice one say the many friends whom she cheers with bouquets. Fortunately, she adds, it is also her husband's hobby, so they dig in the dirt together. Mr. Greenlaw does the heavy work. The result is that their home at 35 Claremont avenue is a show place. On the half acre there, they have a thousand rose bushes, a hundred hybrid teas and twenty-five or so old-fashioned varieties.

Last Sunday afternoon over fifty members of the New England Rose Society, meeting with the Greenlaws, put up their umbrellas and walked through the garden. This was the last meeting that the society will hold there, since the Greenlaws are now engaged in digging up evergreens and roses preparing to move them to their new home on Lexington road, Concord, across from the Hawthorne house. There they will have a garden twice the size of the one here and five times as much greenhouse space.

It is not only the Garden Club and the other flower lovers that will regret Mrs. Greenlaw's leaving. She will be seriously missed at the Park Avenue Congregational Church, where she has been an effective worker ever since she came to Arlington twenty-five years ago. Until three years ago she acted as chairman of both the annual fair and supper. At that time she rebelled and since then has been managing the supper, turning the fair over to another chairman.

However, she will not be altogether lost to Arlington, as she will keep her membership in the Garden Club, continuing as its president until the end of the year. Also, as soon as her flowers are settled in their new home, she is planning to have her old friends gather there for reunions.

National Guard
Recruiting Campaign

With a proclamation by President Truman, and a proclamation and radio address by Governor Bradford, an intensive recruiting campaign for the National Guard gets underway this week.

The local drive is being sponsored by the town officials to fill the ranks of Battery "A," 130th Field Artillery Battalion, to be known as the Arlington Battery. William C. Adams, chairman of the Board of Selectmen, Selectman Joseph Peterson and James J. Golden, Jr., secretary to the Board, received advance information about the drive from Lt. Ralph Mello of 54 Foster street, executive officer of Battery "A."

Mr. Adams and Mr. Golden rode through Arlington Center in one of Battery "A's" high-speed M5 tractors. A little doubtful at first, they found the tractor a safe vehicle to travel in.

Friday, September 19, will be a big occasion for the Arlington drive. Chief Archibald Bullock has reserved the space from the Center Fire House to the monument for a display of vehicles and the 155 Howitzer. Personnel from Battery "A" will be on hand to explain to the interested public the functions and use of the equipment.

Charles B. Perham, local Ford agency, has donated an entire window for display purposes. Smaller equipment, switchboards, telephones, etc., will be placed there for a short period. Among the displays will be a Recruiting Thermometer, to show the town's progress in the drive. A minimum quota of twenty-five men has been set but it is hoped that there will be many more.

The highlight of the day will come at 1:45 in the parking area to the rear of Arlington High School. Principal Herman Gammons has promised to be one of the most interested spectators at a demonstration to be held there. The Howitzer will be set up in firing position and will be operated by the crew and by spectators. The prime mover, and a jeep will be there to provide rather thrilling rides for those interested. All of the townspeople are invited to attend this demonstration of the latest in ground force medium artillery equipment.

Provision has been made for Guard members to draw a full day's pay at Regular Army rates for one two-hour training period per week, and for each of the fifteen days of field training held in the summer. Also, veterans of the last war may enlist in the grade held on discharge if a vacancy exists in their specialty.

Lt. Mello is in charge of recruiting and can be contacted at 54 Foster street or by calling Arlington 7623-R. Battery "A" is drilling every Thursday night at the Commonwealth Armory, Brighton. All interested persons are invited to visit any drill period.

Miss Helen Reensterna, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orlan H. Reensterna of 21 Spring Valley, is a freshman at the Rhode Island School of Design.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Mills and their daughters, Jean and Marilyn, of 62 Aerial street, visited Mrs. Mills' sister in Montreal. During the visit they spent some time camping in the Laurentian Mountains.

SALVATION ARMY APPEAL TO START NEXT MONDAY

Dr. Donald Horley, 476 Massachusetts avenue, Business District Chairman in Arlington for The Salvation Army 1947-1948 Greater Boston Appeal for $500,000.

Besides Dr. Horley, other members of the committee here for this annual appeal are Edward C. Hildreth, Treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. J. Carroll Morris, residential chairman; Harold N. Anderson, special gifts chairman; Miss Mary F. Hayes, municipal chairman. The Arlington quota is $6,000 and the start of the intensive part of the campaign here is September 22.

—Bert Connors of Windermere avenue and Lawrence Scannell of Franklin street are studying at Salem Teachers' College.

Everett C. Bryant, manager of the Arlington Gas Light Company, announces that beginning October 1, the local gas company will be unable to supply gas for additional gas heating equipment to homes and business establishments.

The restriction will apply to all heating units installed after September 30, unless arrangements had been made with the company prior to August 15. It is expected that the period of restriction will cover approximately two years.

Mr. Bryant points out that in taking this action, Arlington Gas Light Company is following steps recently taken by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company, from whom Arlington purchases its gas supply. This restriction is necessary because of the heavy increases in demands for gas heating services which require a greatly increased capacity for peak days of cold weather. Boston Consolidated, in order to solve its problem, found it necessary to request companies such as Arlington, to whom it sells gas, to make similar restrictions in their territories.

Arlington Gas Light Company has filed "Terms and Conditions of Service" with the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities regarding the curtailment of additional gas heating business. It was stressed, however, that it will continue to supply gas for new kitchen heating in units built into a cooking range and for such purposes as new cooking, water heating, refrigeration, and various commercial and industrial purposes.

Mr. and Mrs. James Parker (Lucia Woodworth) and their two children, who have made their home with the Woodworths for the past Blue Danube. This is a story of year have bought a home in March and will move there in October.

—Leonard Wood, conductor of the Philharmonic, succeeded by Leo Litwin.

Meeting at the home of Mrs. Morand F. Caldwell, president of the Philharmonic Society of Arlington, Inc., the board of directors of the Society were forced to consider the resignation of Leonard Wood, conductor of the orchestra for many years.

In accepting his resignation, the board of directors paid tribute to Mr. Wood, recalling that since 1934 he has worked arduously and faithfully with the orchestra and chorus and has built the orchestra to its present high standing as a community orchestra. It is with sincere regret that the resignation was accepted. Mr. Wood stated that his present duties would prevent his continuing to give the time to the Philharmonic necessary for the proper development of musical programs.

His many friends in Arlington regret his decision but understand and wish him success in his new work with the Arlington Advocate.

UNIVERSALISTS
OF ATTRACTIONS

The success of the choir of the Universalist Church of Arlington last season when they presented the Fisk Jubilee Singers shows very definitely that there is a good waiting audience for a series of well balanced programs and it will, therefore, offer on the dates as scheduled below the following attractions:

October 21, 1947—Bradford Washburn, intrepid mountaineer, explorer and scientist. All the world, during the past few months, has awaited with interest the success of Mr. Washburn's "Ascent of Mount McKinley." Mr. Washburn accompanied by Mrs. Washburn and with the aid of aeroplanes, radio, etc., successfully achieved this task. Mr. Washburn in his program on this evening, illustrated with wonderful movies, will tell the full story of his summer's experiences and experiments.

Mr. Washburn was the first woman ever to climb Mount McKinley. The expedition was jointly sponsored by the New England Museum of Natural History, RKO Radio Pictures and Northwest Airlines with the assistance of the Army Air Forces.

This expedition not only climbed McKinley but lived on it for ninety days, thirty-two days above 18,000 feet without oxygen. It encountered temperatures in June down to twenty-nine below zero as well as terrific storms of wind and snow.

It established the world's highest cosmic ray research station for the Physics Department of the University of Chicago and carried out geological and weather observations for the U. S. Geological Survey and Weather Bureau.

February 4, 1948—The Apollo Club of Boston, one of the nation's oldest male singing groups and known throughout the country, will appear under the leadership of Nicolas Sloninsky, famous conductor, and author of the current "Book of the Month" best seller, "Road to Music," assisted by Louise Scardino, coloratura soprano with Walter Knight, flute obbligato. The program will be especially designed to meet with the approval of all lovers of good singing.

April 7, 1948—Count Byron de Prook, internationally famous archaeologist explorer. Leader of eighteen major expeditions to the Old World, Egypt, Persia, the Sahara, Mexico, Libya, Arabia. Count de Prook will come to us with his latest, up-to-date moving picture story in color, "From Crispin Dolonites to the Sahara Desert." This is a story of that part of the world "Behind the Iron Curtain," the roof of Europe.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Woodworth who have been at their Mussel Point home, are back in their Norfolk road home. Mr. and Mrs. James Parker (Lucia Woodworth) and their two children, who have made their home with the Woodworths for the past Blue Danube. SUPERINTENDENT HALL ANNOUNCES APPOINTMENT OF NEW TEACHERS6,183 Pupils Enrolled on Opening Day of School.
1,540 in Senior High School

New appointments to the teaching staff of the Arlington Schools have been announced by Superintendent Clifford R. Hall. At the Senior High School, Miss Anne Horgan and Miss Helen M. Garrity have joined the faculty. There are no replacements in any of the Junior High Schools, nor at the Peirce School, although there have been some transfers among the Junior High Schools.

At the Brackett School, there are five new teachers: Miss Mary Donovan, Grade 4; Miss Elizabeth Starr, Grade 4; Miss Dorothy M. Thayer, Grade 3; Miss Virginia Robinson, Grade 2; and Miss Phyllis Nevins, kindergarten. They are replacing Miss Muriel Maloney, Miss Priscilla Berry, and Miss Sheila Walsh, who left to be married; Miss Margaret Walsh, who is teaching in Richmond, Rhode Island; and Miss Rosemary Stiles, who is studying voice in New York.

At the Crosby School, Miss Emma Connell is teaching Grade 2, formerly taught by Miss Mary Lally, who left to be married. The five new teachers at the Cutter School are Miss Mary Murphy, Grade 5; Miss Aicha Huntress, Grade 4; Miss Stella Koppanan, Grade 3; Miss Mary Walsh, Grade 1; and Mrs. Priscilla R. Larson, substitute teacher in the kindergarten. The former teachers were Miss Beattie Mack, who is teaching at the Junior High Industrial Arts;

Miss Elsie McCarthy, who is teaching in Middleboro; Mrs. Ida Hunt, who retired; and Miss Elizabeth Davis, who is teaching in Belmont.

Mrs. Alice Powers resigned as teacher of Grade 4 at the Hardy School, and Miss Gloria Gallant has been appointed in her place. The new appointees at the Locke School are Miss Helen M. Delahunty, Grade 3; Miss Caroline C. Cunningham, Grade 3; Miss Dorothy M. Bowie, Grade 2; and Miss Daphne Tait, kindergarten; in place of Miss Marie Snel, Miss Barbara Welsch, and Miss Jocelyn Tozier, who left to be married, and Mrs. Helen O'Brien, who resigned.

New teachers at the Parmenter School are Mrs. Susan B. Guy, substitute teacher in Grade 4; and Miss Helen Fisher, Grade 1; replacing Miss Shirley Walker, who resigned, and Miss Ruth Wallace, who left to be married. Miss Katherine Abern, Grade 5, and Miss Ariene Webb, Grade 4, are newly appointed to the teaching staff of the Russell School, replacing Miss Mary Lewis, who resigned, and Miss Mabel Pond, who retired.

Mr. Hall also announced the following enrollment: —Senior High School, 1580; combined Junior High Schools, 1266; Industrial Arts 50; entire Elementary School enrollment, 3287, giving a total enrollment of 6,183 pupils.

—Police Chief Archie F. Bullock attended the meeting of police and traffic officials of Boston and adjoining communities last Thursday when the Greater Boston "No Parking" plan was discussed. Arlington's part in this plan will be decided when the Selectmen meet next Monday evening.

—The executive board meeting of the Twenty-Third Group of St. John's Church was held last Friday evening at the Hillside avenue home of the secretary, Miss Barbara Carlson. The members were pleased that Miss Carlson has recovered from the severe cold that has kept her from business for the past three weeks. Refreshments were served.

—Mrs. W. K. Cook of Addison street, in company with the family of her elder son, Robert F. Cook, spent the week-end at Cumberland, Maine, as guests of her younger son, Stanwood, and

Lions Club Songster
Contest

Starting September 27th, the Arlington Lions Club will inaugurate a songster contest at their weekly Football Dinners. This contest is open to both young men and young women, a suitable prize being given each week to the winner. At the end of the season, a grand winner will be selected and given a scholarship of vocal instruction at the Arlington Academy of Music.

Any young man or woman interested in singing September 27 should call Joseph Carty at ARL 7572. Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday, between two and four p. m. for an audition before the judges. Songs will be sung with full Reginald Orchestra as a background.

—Returning last week to their home, 7 Carl road, from a week's trip to Halifax, N. S., were Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Langan. They brought with them their niece, Jean Foy, who visited them until Saturday.

ADVENTURERS

Over six thousand pupils enrolled in Arlington schools last week. For many of them this was the beginning of a great adventure, the opening up of a new world; for all, it was a new year, entered upon with both hope and fear.

The opening of school marks for the little ones the beginning of friendships which may last through the years. To the older ones, it brings the renewal of friendships, suspended, perhaps, during the summer, and the exchange of the experiences of those weeks of separation.

From the Massachusetts Teachers' Federation come valuable suggestions to parents and teachers as to the guidance of children in this new adventure:

"The child entering school for the first time is anxious and timid. He has heard tales concerning this strange world into which he is about to enter. Frequently an older child, with a vivid imagination, has frightened him by wild, distorted stories of what will happen when he goes to school. He doesn't want to trust this woman called the teacher, so he cries in protest as his mother leaves him, or runs home at the first chance of escape. Patience and study of the situation on the part of the teacher and parent will uncover the cause, and the child will soon learn to adjust himself to being a part of the whole, to being limited to the confines of certain restrictions, and to find real joy in the companionship of other children. He learns not to be afraid of things which he doesn't understand and which he does not know.

"The average child is thrilled by the wonderful things which are taught in school today and comes home bubbling with enthusiasm to tell the family about the day's events and how he likes the teacher. The wise parent will listen and will encourage him in his efforts.

"Older children, too, face new situations and teachers each year. Their faces reveal the confidence or uncertainty which they feel as they are assigned places. Often the teacher's reputation has preceded her introduction to them, and they wait to know the truth. It would be false to gain the impression that these children are abnormal because they continue to find the first days of school something to which they have to adjust themselves. Kindly advice, a suggestion here and there, and a pat on the back for encouragement make their situation less tense.

"When parents and teachers realize that going to school is a great adventure from the first day in pre-primary class to the day of graduation, they make that experience a glorious undertaking."

Accident.—Thomas Roden, engineer at Fowler's Mills had the forefinger of his left hand taken off in the machinery at the mill last Thursday afternoon.

There was a dancing party in Menotomy Hall, Thursday evening which the police say was the most disgraceful affair that has occurred in town for a long time. The hall was closed on them at twelve o'clock, but a crowd of ruffians hung around town until the early morning.

Rare sight.—Mr. John Davis has growing on his grounds near the Arlington Heights depot on Arlington avenue a beautiful specimen of southern cotton plant more than six feet high, which is now in full blossom.

IN 1897

50 Years Ago This Week

Mr. Edwin A. Gray of Bartlett avenue, in sinking an artesian well on his premises, struck a bubbling spring of remarkable purity, and for a considerable time has been supplying people desiring a perfectly pure table water.

Thursday evening of this week, Mr. and Mrs. Wadleigh celebrated their fifth anniversary in a pleasant manner at their home on Swan street.

Horace Hardy left town this week for Dartmouth where he is pursuing a course of study. Chester Grover, who was a member of the same class, will attend Amherst again this year.

The children of the public schools were dismissed early on Friday afternoon owing to the intense heat then prevailing. It was over ninety in some of the rooms.

Dr. Cummins Speaks Out At Universalist Assembly

Rev. Robert Cummins, S.T.D., general superintendent of the Universalist Church of America, spoke plainly at the Biennial Assembly held last week on the campus of St. Lawrence University. After announcing that the Federal Council of Churches in America had rejected the Universalists' second application for membership, he stated that Charles Taft, Council president and brother of Ohio Senator Robert A. Taft, had written that "this is a practical matter. If we let in the Unitarians, we let out the Lutherans."

The Universalist leader said he had suggested to Mr. Taft the possibility of a religious organization approaching the matter ethically as well as practically.

Referring to the Council, Dr. Cummins said, "there is an organization called Christian practicing the monopoly of a closed shop."

Rev. Robert M. Rice, minister of the Universalist Church here, was among those attending the assembly whose theme was the church's part in world peace.

Commander Lee Morris, in an appeal to Arlington citizens on behalf of our disabled veterans, says:

"The Arlington Board of Selectmen has officially endorsed Saturday, September 20th, as Forget-Me-Not Day. We can honor the living; we can do nothing for those who made the supreme sacrifice on battle fields for our country. But we can do honor to their memory by helping their comrades who have returned with wounds, shattered minds and permanent handicaps.

"Your opportunity to do this honor will present itself Saturday, when the Disabled American Veterans of Arlington conducts its annual Forget-Me-Not Drive. Little blue flowers of remembrance will be sold on that day by workers who have been enlisted in this great cause of aiding our service handicapped.

"Funds obtained are used by the D. A. V. to provide a free service to disabled veterans and their families, as well as to the widows of war veterans, such as presentation of claims for government benefits, counseling and rehabilitation, and helping to find suitable employment for your disabled veterans.

Social Follows Meeting Of St. James Guild

St. James Branch, No. 17, Massachusetts Catholic Woman's Guild, met Tuesday evening in the upper church vestry, with Mrs. Bernadette A. Lansing, resident, presiding. Many important matters were discussed and Fall activities planned.

Following the business session, there was a social for members, at which refreshments were served by the chairlady, Mrs. Helen K. Quinn, assisted by her committee.

Women's Fellowship Holds First Meeting

The first Women's Fellowship meeting of the season was held on Monday evening at 8:00 o'clock in the First Baptist Church. Conversations, presentations, a varied program, including piano and accordion numbers and monologues. These were extremely amusing.

The devotionals were in charge of Rev. Nathan W. Wood. Refreshments were served.

Studying Medical

Art at Johns Hopkins
"Art as Applied to Medicine" is the unusual course of study which Miss Florence Carlan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Carlan of 76 Westmoreland avenue, is pursuing at the Medical School of Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. Miss Carlan's objective is to illustrate and diagram medical literature, and she has already had much practical and preparatory experience in this field. A graduate of Arlington High School in 1942, where she was voted the most artistic of her class, she studied at the Museum of Fine Arts, the Massachusetts School of Art, and Vesper George Art School.

FICTION

Brace, G. W. Garretson Chronicle. The life and times of three generations of a New England family are described in a manner that is both delightful and heart warming.

Greenwood, Robert. Wagstaff; a comedy. A self-made man decides to retire to a small English town where both he and the townspeople are unprepared for each other.

Huggins, Roy. Too Late for Tears.

Lavery, Maura. Liffey Lane. The touching story of a child of the Dublin slums who, through her own innocence, makes the people and their surroundings better than they actually are.

Rollins, William. Ring and the Lamp.

Tabor, Paul. He Never Came Back, by Paul Tabori. A story excitingly told of an escaped Nazi who's dream is to return when the time is right and spread Nazism across Europe.

Tomlinson, H. M. Morning Light. Due to an injustice, a young boy runs away from home and goes to sea; the sights he sees, the struggles and hate among men, all help to make an interesting story.

Williams, B. A. House Divided. A novel of the Civil War that tells the story of Southern civilians rather than soldiers and which paints war in its true colors.

NON-FICTION

"Matter" is the Lesson-Sermon subject for Sunday, September 21.

Golden Text: "Little children, keep yourselves from idols" (1 John 5:21).

Sermon: Passages from the Bible (King James Version) include:

"And, behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean. And Jesus put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will, be thou clean. And immediately his leprosy was cleansed" (Matthew 8:2-3).

Correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, include:

"Science reverses the false testimony of the physical senses, and by this reversal mortals arrive at the fundamental facts of being. Health is not a condition of matter, but of Mind; nor can the material senses bear reliable testimony on the subject of health" (p. 120).

Elliott, Wilkins, recently discharged Army Officer and a 4-year scholarship student at William and Mary College, Williamsburg, Virginia, has been spending part of his vacation in company with his friend, Robert Walters, a theological student, from Richmond, Virginia, with Mrs. Henry Marshall Drew of Morton road.

Mrs. Drew spent the early part of the summer studying Liturgy and History of Church Music with Dean Walter Williams of University of Colorado at Evergreen Conference, Evergreen, Colorado.

She also studied Conducting privately and in a seminar with Paul Callaway of the Washington Cathedral, Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Drew is heading the music department for the second year at St. Anne's Convent, Arlington Heights, and is organist and choir director at Phillips Congregational church, Watertown.

Youngkens Attend Plant Science Seminar

Dr. Heber W. Youngken, Mrs. Youngken and their son, Eugene, attended the plant science seminar held at the College of Pharmacy, University of Illinois, in Chicago during the week of August 17. Dr. Youngken is one of the charter members of this organization which was founded at the University of Minnesota in 1923. Both he and his son, Heber, Jr., the latter Assistant Professor of Pharmacognosy at the University of Washington, Seattle, took active part in the program and presented collaborative studies in quantitative microscopical analysis to the group.

During the following week both father and son attended the American Pharmaceutical Association convention at Milwaukee, Wisconsin, where both presented papers on subjects of their original investigations in the field of pharmacognosy.

During the past week Dr. Youngken, Sr., who is head of the department of materia medica in the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, Boston, attended the meetings of the United States Pharmacopoeia Revision Committee held at Pocono Manor Inn, Pocono Summit, Pa.

COMMUNITY FUND LEADERS ATTEND ANNUAL DINNER

Highlight of the pre-campaign period for community leaders is the annual metropolitan dinner tonight at the Harvard Club, Boston. Paul J. Power, chairman of the Arlington Community Chests and Councils, Inc., which includes 1,000 community chests and funds simultaneously holding October drives throughout the country.

Also of local interest are the weekly "Dutch treat" get-together luncheons to be held at the Army for metropolitan leaders, beginning next Monday.

Another important September event is the Educational Division luncheon, next Thursday (Sept. 25), at the Pioneer, Boston YWCA. Mrs. Harvey C. Abbott, local chairman, will head a delegation from Arlington.

The goal for the 1948 campaign of the Greater Boston Community Fund, beginning in mid-October, has been set at $6,000,000. Charles Francis Adams, Fund president, and Philip H. Theopold, campaign chairman, announced today. This is $150,000 more than was raised by the 50 participating communities last year.

However, this goal of $6,000,000 is far from representing the needs of the 300 odd Red Feather services in 1948, they declare. Community needs are estimated at $7,800,000 by the Central Budget Committee and unless this amount is raised, there will be a recurrence of the financial deficits and the curtailment in services of Red Feather agencies, they say.

Arlington's quota will be $32,000. In 1946 these deficits tallied well over $1,000,000. This year deficits are continuing and services being curtailed. In other words, the goal is merely an objective for the 40,000 volunteer campaign solicitors — an objective which it is their purpose to exceed by as large an amount as possible, in order to bridge this gap brought about by rapidly rising costs of recent years. "Beat last year" the challenge unanimously accepted by campaign leaders.

The eight Arlington participating agencies are:

- Arlington Visiting Nursing Association
- Arlington Social Service League
- Arlington Girl Scouts
- Arlington Boy Scouts
- Arlington Camp Fire Girls
- Arlington Boys' Club
- Arlington Branch of St. Vincent de Paul Society
- St. James Branch of the Massachusetts Catholic Women's Guild

Constance Bean Wed at Home of Her Mother

At a ceremony at the home of her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Pratt Bean, last Friday afternoon, Miss Constance Ann Bean was married to Russell Andrew Carlson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Carlson of Norfolk. In a setting of candelabra, gladiolas and evergreens, Rev. J. Roy Packard of North Brookfield performed the ceremony which was witnessed only by members of the family and a few close friends. A reception followed.

The bride had her aunt, Mrs. Herbert F. Fitton of Rochester, N. Y., as her matron of honor. Robert Whitten of Whitman was his cousin's best man.

Wearing white satin, her fingertip veil held by a Juliet cap of seed pearls, the bride carried a bouquet of white roses and gladiolas. With her aqua crepe gown trimmed with white, Mrs. Fitton carried an arm bouquet of lavender gladiolas to match the flowers in her headress.

Go West in Milk Truck

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wannlund (Vivian Morse) are in East St. Louis, Missouri, where Mr. Wannlund is studying at Parks Air College. The couple made the westward trek, not in a covered wagon but in its modern counterpart, a milk truck, in which they packed their household goods. Having given it a coat of green paint, they named it the "Green Hornet".

They are not, however, living in the truck, as has been rumored. On the contrary, they were lucky enough to get a room immediately with the prospect of securing an apartment soon.

Mr. Wannlund's brother, Arthur, who has been teaching at the University of Massachusetts, has gone to Indiana to study at Purdue University for his master's degree in physics. Both young men are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Wannlund of 144 Mt. Vernon street. Mrs. Wallace Wannlund is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred O. Morse of 160 Mt. Vernon street.

Town Topics

—Mrs. Jennie Baker of Florence avenue won first prize in the advertising game played at the outing of Present Worthy Matrons and Patrons of the Order of Eastern Star which was held last Sunday in Cohasset. Miss Mildred Evans of 224 Massachusetts avenue also attended the meeting.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. Warren Rutherford and Mr. and Mrs. John P. Sherwin have returned after spending the summer at their farm in West Hingham, N. H. The Rutherfords are at their home on Newcomb street and the Sherwins at their apartment in Cambridge.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Golland of 1090 Massachusetts avenue have as their house guest Miss Virginia Margosian of Lowell whom Mrs. Golland met at Daytona Beach, Florida, where she spends the winter.

T5 John Gallagher

In Sendai, Japan
Technician Fifth Grade John R. Gallagher, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Gallagher, Sr., who reside on 55 Fairmont street, is now serving with the 62nd Signal Battalion, which has the tremendous job of construction and maintenance of all communications in this city of 220,000 population on Northern Honshu Island. T/5 Gallagher is living in new barracks which have every modern convenience. For recreation there are available to him hunting and fishing, golf course, tennis courts, basketball court, volleyball courts, and athletic field, swimming pool, a completely equipped gymnasium, and a fine enlisted men's club. A graduate of the Somerville High School, T/5 Gallagher entered the army on September 27, 1946, and received his basic training at Fort Dix, New Jersey, later sailing for overseas duty in Japan. Upon his arrival in this theatre, he was assigned to the 62nd Signal Battalion where he entered on his present duties as a clerk.

The Scoreboard And Arlington Wins Again

By KILROY

Arlington's football season did not get off to a very good start, with the High School losing to Medford and the Red Devils playing in the rain also taking it on the chin. From this corner it looks as if we have a couple of good teams that will win their share of games this year. Incidentally, how long has it been since Arlington has had an undefeated football team? The closest I can remember was in 1928 when Belmont upset the dope and beat them on a long run by Flanders. And with the hockey season just a few months away, the faithful followers are starting to wonder if the team is going to have a coach. Walter "Dinger" McLean, one of the fastest backs that wore the Red and Gray, is with the Mack Truck Co. George "Giggy" Reagan, a real rough and ready tackle for Arlington, was a major in the Marines. George went to Syracuse to get his engineering degree. "Husky" Crovo was on hand Saturday, trying to root the boys to win. It would be nice to have a kicker like "Husky" out there this year. The baseball question of the week. Can a batter that gets up right-handed and takes one pitch, then switch and bat left-handed? Johnny Buckley says No. Saw Joe "Fish" Harrington Saturday. Joe was a real good end at Arlington in the twenties. He now holds a high position with the State.

Watch these Arlington lads better
last years record of 11 wins 1 loss

MEDFORD CLIPS RED AND GRAY ON KELLY'S WOBBLY AERIAL, 7-0

McEwen Tower of Strength on Defense. Carmody Handles Ball Well. Medford Shows Superior Attack.

When Medford failed to score in the second period, after having had possession of the ball for 19 downs to Arlington's 4, it appeared that a scoreless tie would be spread upon the records. However, he recorded a crowd of about 11,000, plus the usual 1,000,000 kids, overflowed Medford's Gillis Stadium Saturday afternoon and saw the Mustangs win, 7-0.

Just when the temperature dropped from a broil to a simmer, Medford got torrid in the last quarter. On the first play of the final stanza, Greenleaf started from his 43-yd. line on a hand-off from Kelly. He skirted his right end and sped goalward. Five locals had good shots at him but all missed. Raia finally dragged him to turf on the 27-yard stripe.

Two line plays were smeared. The next play was a pass which fell incomplete but the locals received an offside penalty which gave the aroused Mustangs two more chances instead of one. Another Kelly flip failed to connect. With fourth down and six to go, Kelly, a lefty this time faded to his right and back. He appeared hopelessly hemmed in. The Arlington secondary made the fatal error of moving in. Kelly twisted around and let go a high, wobbly pass which dropped with a thump into the arms of the stationary Greenleaf for the big T. D.

The versatile Kelly converted. The Red and Gray came back with spirit. A poor Medford kick-off was helpful and allowed the locals to start on their 48-yd. line. After 3 plays netted 8 yds., To's boys gambled and lost when Carmody did not quite make first down around his left end.

However, Medford graciously fumbled on their second down. McEwen recovered on the Arlington 49-yd. stripe. Raia feinted a pass to Carmody and slipped through for a first down. Tyrell galloped the left end for another, down to the 20-yd. line. Here inexperience or lack of sharp generalship spoiled what chance was left.

With one minute left to play, time should have been called. As is was, the locals took a long time in the huddle, came out and Raia completed an accurate toss to Carmody in the flat. Here time should have been called again to stop the clock and to plan the next two or three plays. Raia completed his second successive pass, this time to Myers, but the timekeeper stepped in and grabbed the ball.

Rugged Line
Although outweighed, the Arlington club showed up with a really rugged line. The right side was especially strong, with McEwen and Bagaccio the pillars. At the end of the first period an Arlington fumble and two successive short kicks by Raia put the locals back on their haunches. So as the second quarter started, Medford went through its entire repertoire. An Arlington offside gave the Mustangs one first down. Kelly broke loose on third down for 7 yards for another, but that was 4th period.

Here is how the number of plays shaped up by periods:

Period	Arlington	Medford
1st period	10	13
2nd period	4	19
3rd period	9	8
4th period	11	9

At Medford

Medford's Kelly is the team's busiest boy. He handles the ball on every play. He does the passing. He does the punting. He does the placement kicking.

Both bands were conspicuously absent. So, between the halves the kids played cops and robbers with real cops.

RED DEVILS FAIL TO CLICK, LOSE TO READVILLE, 9 TO 0

Four Hundred Faithful Fans Watch Locals' Attack Sputter in Steady Drizzle. Devils Show Depth of Material, Lack of Finesse.

SKET VINCENT of the Red Devils football squad lifts a high punt in the pre-game practice on Sunday, when the locals lost to Readville, 9 to 0.

Sunday afternoon in a miserable drizzle the local Red Devils lost a dreary game to the Readville A. C. at the High School field, 9-0. Readville pinned a safety on the Devils in the third period and a touchdown in the 4th quarter. About four hundred faithful huddled in the heavy dew and stuck it out to the end.

Your correspondent took copious notes which would pass as AAA secret, coded, war-time dispatches when the rain got thru with them.

In the opening minutes of the third period Paul Wells was hurried on a 4th down punt. His protection was nil and he did well to get the hoist off. The ball was on the locals' 32-yard marker; Readville took over on the Devils' 46.

A quick kick surprised the Devils and Wells was downed hard on his 7-yard line. Here the locals gambled a bit—and with a slimy ball. A line play right off tackle gained a foot. On the next play the Red Devils went into a kick formation with Wells back. It was a fake, however. He started to his left. The pass from center did not lead him and the ball bobbed into the end zone. Paul recovered and ran it part way out but had his nose rubbed into the mud for his trouble. Readville 2, Devils 0.

Ache and Wheeze A. C.

To Play St. James Girls

St. James Girls' softball team will wind up the season next Sunday afternoon at Reservoir Field in a game against the men's Old Timer team.

The girls are carrying a seven-sack lead in this game and they hope to tip the scales on the victory side by winning. The men eked out a last-inning victory last year and expect to repeat the feat. St. James left-handed pitcher, will be seeking vengeance for last year's defeat and her pitches will be called by catcher Turgie Harrington. The same line-up which started against the Roxbury girls will face the men.

The line-up for the men's Ache and Wheeze A. C. is still uncertain. A lot of men on hospital dismissals and refugees from the Home for the Aged will be made to determine the starting line-up.

T. D. play. The Devils promptly took to the air after the ensuing kick-off. Graham pitched them well in spite of the soggy ball. He hit his mark three times out of five attempts. The rally was snuffed by a Devil fumble and the game ended.

DEVILMENT
The Devils' management slipped up by not providing for enough towels for the officials to wipe the ball. "Tiger" was waiting out there for a dry one the closing minutes.

The game was hard-fought, but clean. One local got a bit excited but was promptly benched. "Tiger" Bevin and Bill Coughlin, the coaches, obviously will stand for nothing but football on the playing field.

Another week of practise will iron out a lot of the Devils' faults on the offense. Some of the operatives just don't know their assignments and Graham should work on more deception in ball handling, which is the essence of the "T".

1872 — SAINT AGNES' CHURCH DIAMOND JUBILEE SUPPLEMENT — 1947

Saint Agnes' Diamond Jubilee Section

SELDOM in the history of the town has there been seen more colorful, yet solemn pageantry than that of the Pontifical High Mass. Leading the procession with drawn swords were eight parochial members of the Bishop Cheverus Assembly Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, honor guard to Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, celebrant of the mass, and following them the nuns in their somber habits, which formed a contrast to the magnificent robes, some of them crimson embroidered with gold, of the clergy coming in from the sides. At the left was the canopied throne, seat of the Archbishop, impressive in the full robes of his office. On the white marble of the candlelit altar was a beautiful mass of pink gladiolas.

This is the Day the Lord Hath Made

Father Flaherty, preaching the jubilee sermon, took for his text, "This is the day the Lord hath made. Let us rejoice." He said, "Our hearts are full of gratitude to those who have gone before, full of joy at the bright outlook after seventy-five years."

He outlined the growth of the church from its beginning when people walked to church—those were the days of real shoe leather. He stressed the importance of education coupled with religion and proudly pointed to the school which had been erected largely through his efforts. Catholics, he said, saved the town $150,000 a year—over a million in ten years. He added that it was hoped that the parish would soon have a senior high school.

He paid tribute to the St. Vincent de Paul Society whose members had raised $6,000 a year. Too many other organizations, he said, had contributed to the success of the church for him to mention them.

Religion, he continued, had started with twelve disciples who increased to five hundred—"the spread of religion needs us all."

"Tell your friends what you believe," he concluded, "and what you don't believe. Lead a life that will impress others and make this lovely spot in a lovely town more lovely, so that it may be a blessing to God and to our country."

A Memorable Day

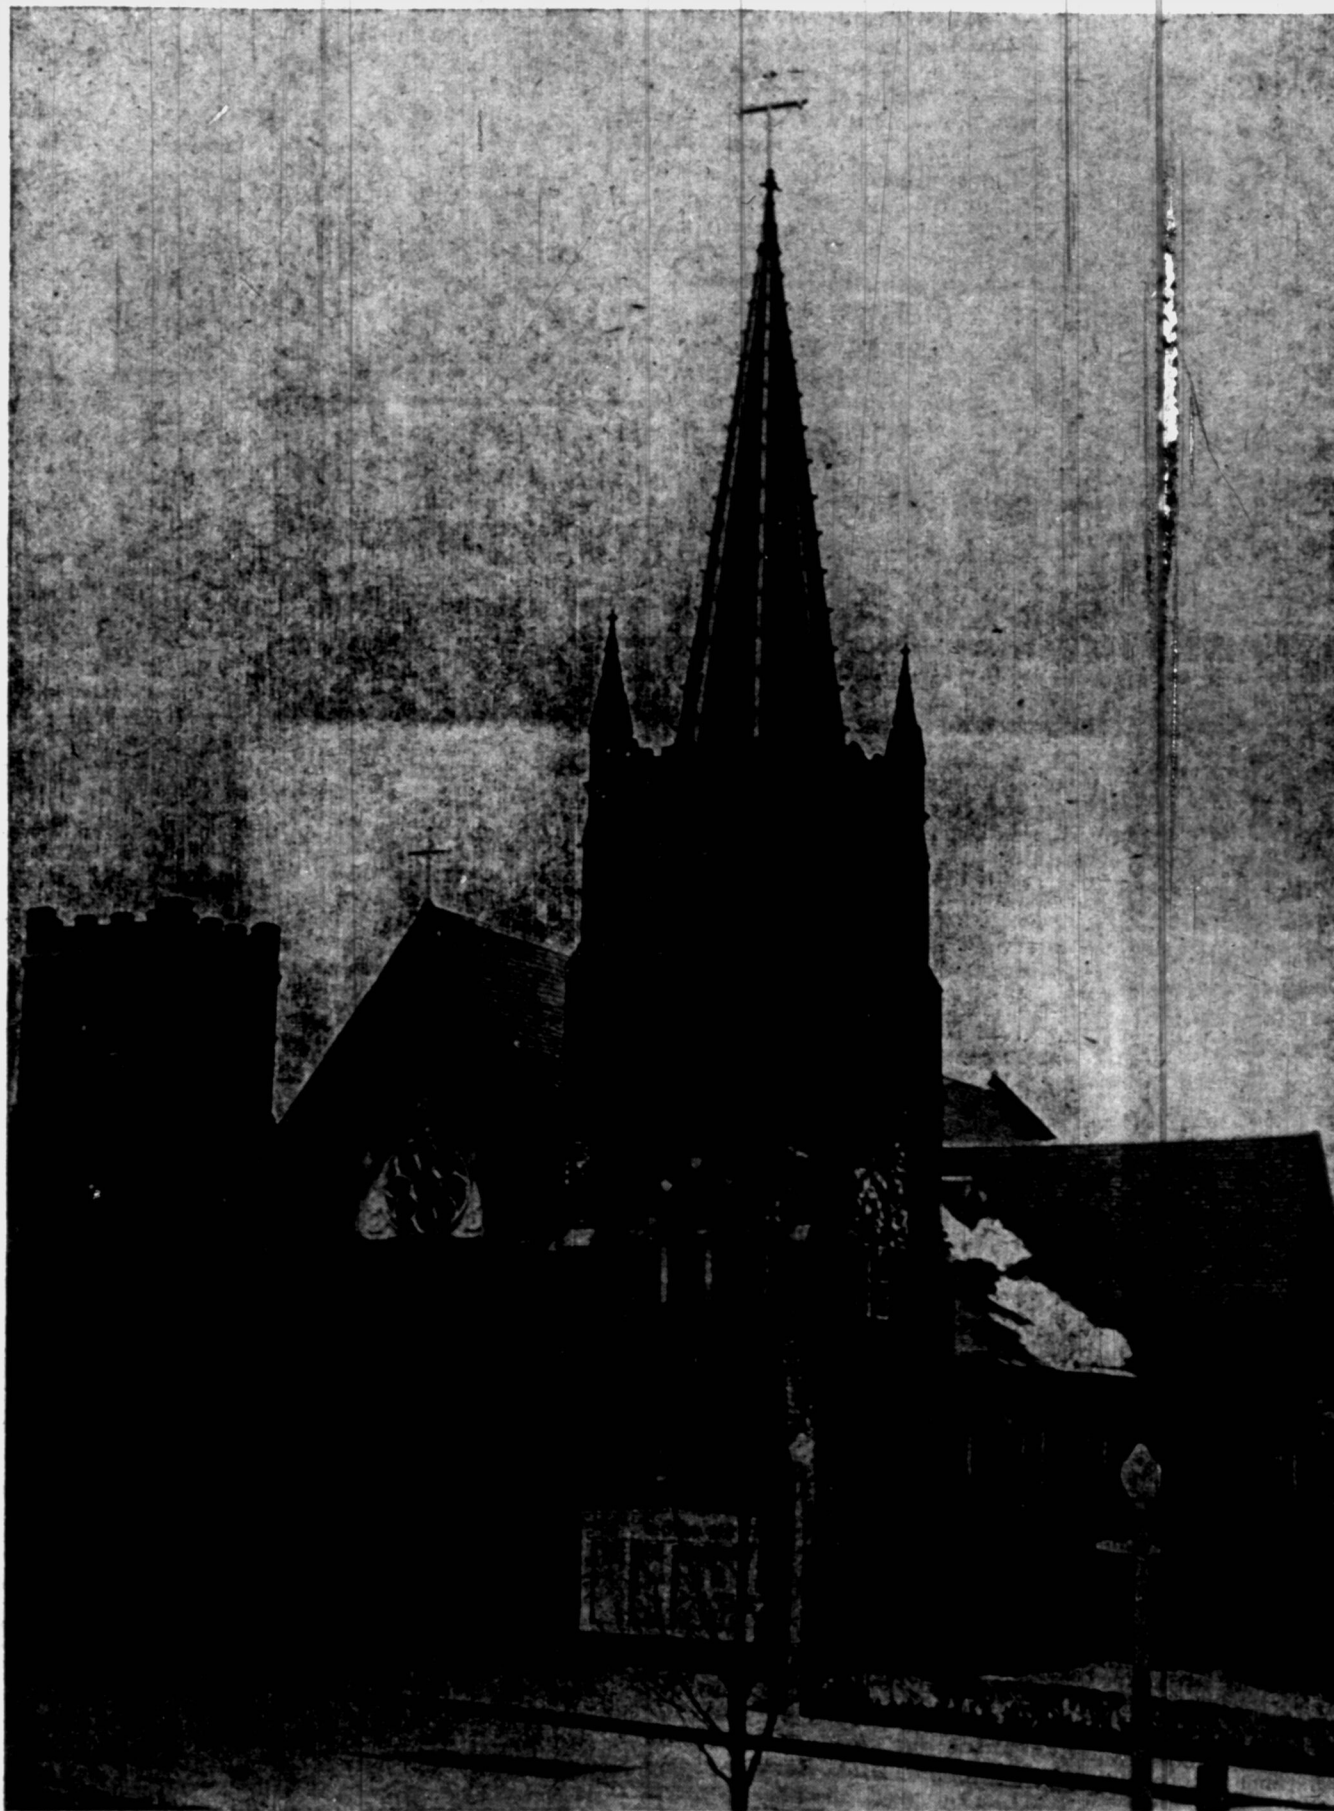

This is a memorable day, said Archbishop Cushing. The history of the church goes back many years. The Catholic Church is a society of individuals, believing the same thing. As in every society there are officers and leaders. In the church is a priesthood of the laity.

"Who is the greatest Catholic?" he questioned. "The one most faithful to this society. You can express religion in all walks of life."

"We would function without churches, he continued, because we have taught a living religion. However, the normal way to function is in a parish, where you will hear the word of God and the teaching of the church from the altar to the people."

"This anniversary," he concluded, "would be without mean-

SOLEMN and triumphant was St. Agnes' Parish's celebration of its 75th anniversary. In the masses, there was lost no iota of the religious significance of the occasion nor of the pomp of the church, while its joy was manifest in such happy events as the jubilee ball and the field day for children. Both for church and town it was a historic occasion which will never be forgotten by those who took part in it.

Opening with the Solemn High Pontifical Mass last Thursday morning and closing last Saturday night with a penny sale at which was announced the winner of the Buick automobile, it included also the Holy Hour on Thursday night, the mass for nuns and children Friday morning and the solemn requiem mass on Saturday morning. It was three days of rejoicing in which there took part not only the members of the parish but people from all parts of town.

Particularly did everyone delight in honoring the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Matthew J. Flaherty, L.L.D., under whose leadership of thirty-three years so much of the growth of the parish has taken place.

Father Flaherty in arranging the celebration had the assistance not only of the curates, Rev. Justin C. Durocher, Rev. William J. Linehan and Rev. John J. Keohane, but of a large committee of parish members.

Guests of Honor

Guests of honor at the celebration were Rev. William J. McCarthy and Rev. Francis V. Murphy, D.D. Father McCarthy was born in Arlington in 1871; was raised here and attended local schools. He was graduated from Boston College in 1891 and was ordained to the Holy Priesthood by the late Archbishop Williams in 1895. Father McCarthy's sisters, Mary and Jennie, Arlington born, reside with him in Lexington; his brother John and family live on Palmer street.

Previous to December, 1872, St. Agnes' Parish, formerly St. Malachi's Parish, was a mission of St. Peter's Parish in Cambridge. For many years the priests of St. Peter's cared for the souls of the Catholic residents of Arlington. It is, therefore, fitting that the present Pastor of that mother parish, Father Murphy, should be an honored guest.

General Committee

Heading a large committee working for the success of the jubilee was Mrs. Harold J. Rogers. Other members were as follows:

Monsignor Matthew J. Flaherty delivers Diamond Jubilee address. Terming himself the 'last and least' of the pastors of St. Agnes' Church, the beloved pastor interestingly traced the history of the mother church of Arlington. Always the teacher, Monsignor Flaherty stressed the need for all to strive to obtain a more complete knowledge of the doctrines of Christ.

Early History of St. Agnes' Parish

The following sketch of the early history of St. Agnes' was taken from "Arlington Past and Present". It was written by the pastor at that time, Rev. J. M. Mulcahy, in 1907.

"Until 1870 the Catholics of Arlington and Belmont were part of the congregation attending the church in Cambridge known as old St. Peter's. Its pastor was Rev. Manasses P. Dougherty, who died in 1877.

"In the year 1869 Fr. Dougherty found that the time had come for a division of his district and, because of the increasing number of the Catholics of Arlington, he began the construction of a new church in this town. It was built on Medford street, the old road from Boston to Lexington and Concord, along which Paul Revere sped on his ride.

"The church was a brick Gothic structure and dedicated to St. Malachy. The first service was held on Christmas Day, December 25, 1870, to the gratification of the Catholic congregation, few, indeed, in numbers, but generous in spirit, who through personal sacrifices made the building of the church possible. Until January, 1873, divine services were conducted and the spiritual needs of the people attended by the priests of St. Peter's, under the guidance of Rev. M. P. Dougherty.

"Then a resident pastor, Rev. J. M. Finotti, was appointed, and Arlington became a distinct parish including Belmont, Lexington and Bedford. The two latter towns had been ing if we did not mention this great priest of God. He speaks your language; he knows your lives. Father Flaherty has always lived himself in an idealist state. A priest of God, thirty-three years your pastor, he has poured out his all-consuming love for church and people. God bless him abundantly."

Officers of the Mass

Officers of the mass were: Rev. Maurice O'Connor, D.D., assistant priest; Rev. Michael Manning, senior deacon of honor; Rev. Joseph Fitzgibbons, junior deacon of honor; Rev. Joseph Murphy, deacon of the mass; Rev. James Grimes, sub-deacon of the mass; Rt. Rev. Walter J. Furlong, diocesan master of ceremonies; Rev. Michael Costello, junior master of ceremonies; Rev. Hilary Sullivan, O.F.M., metropolitan cross bearer; Rev.

George Wiseman, mitre bearer; Rev. Francis X. Bransfield, cross bearer; Rev. Joseph Farrington, book bearer; Rev. Leo McCann, bugle bearer; Rev. John Connor, gremial bearer; Rev. John Golden, C.P.S., thurifer; Rev. Joseph Welch, C.P.S., acolyte; Rev. Joseph Leahy, Rev. Daniel Leahy, Rev. Justin Ellis, O.F.M., and Rev. Blaise Scannell, O.F.M., acolytes of vestments and torches.

Honor Guard

Functioning as honor guard to the Archbishop were eight parochial members of the Bishop Cheverus Assembly Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus, under the direction of District Deputy Joseph C. Mahoney. They were District Deputy Edward C. Longan, Jr., John McMullin, Thomas O'Keefe, Joseph Rockett, William F. MacDonald, Charles Pier-son and John Lawlor.

Six men of the parish ushers' club attended the Archbishop at the mass: James J. Golden, Jr., head usher; William P. O'Connor, Cornelius Collins, William J. Toomey, Joseph P. Ochs and Michael A. Broderick.

The mass was beautifully sung by a special choir under the direction of Mrs. Christopher Nolan, organist. Its members, who also sang the Holy Hour last Thursday evening and the other masses of the week were: Jacqueline Miller, Ruth Dennen, Mary Prior, Thomas Daley, Ray Helmick, Larry Keefe, Fred O'Brien, Marie Helmick, Edward O'Neill, Beatrice Broulette, Therese Mallette, Dermot Fitzgerald, Daniel Quinn, Al Repetto, Victor Guilbault, John Alken, and Eleanor Repetto.

Congratulations from Selectmen
Among the special guests were the Board of Selectmen, who accepted the invitation of the pastor, Monsignor Matthew J. Flaherty, in the following congratulatory letter:

Dear Monsignor Flaherty:
It is with real pleasure that we accept your kind invitation to attend the Pontifical High Mass to be celebrated by the Most Rev.

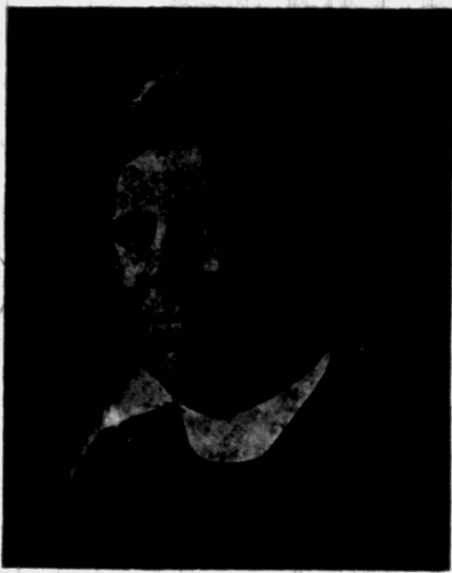

eren Richard J. Cushing, D.D., Archbishop of Boston, in Saint Agnes' Church, on Thursday, September 11, 1947, at 10 o'clock.

We congratulate you and your entire congregation—the Priests, Sisters, and Parishioners—on the Diamond Jubilee of the Parish, three-quarters of a century of honor and worthy achievement for all. It is our sincere wish that the succeeding years will evince a continued growth and increasing influence of the Parish in our community.

Sincerely yours,
Board of Selectmen

previously attended from Woburn and Concord, and, 1870 to 1873, had a resident pastor, Rev. P. J. Canny. On account of continued poor health, Father Finotti retired from active service in April, 1876, and was succeeded by Rev. Matthew Harkins, at present bishop of the Providence Diocese. His earlier experience, after his ordination in Paris and subsequent studies in Rome, had been gained in Salem, where he served as assistant clergyman at the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

"Under his zealous care the congregation increased in numbers, the church was decorated, an organ furnished, a parochial residence built, and many other improvements added, besides the building of the Lexington church.

"Rev. James J. O'Brien, now pastor of St. Catherine's Church, Somerville, was assistant to Father Harkins during the greater part of his pastorate and materially helped in the rebuilding of the parish.

"In April, 1884, Rev. Matthew Harkins was transferred from Arlington to the charge of the important parish of St. James, Boston, and was succeeded by Rev. Thomas H. Shahan. His pastorate of seven years embraced several steps of progress in the Arlington parish. In 1886, Lexington, which since 1873 had been included in the parish and had had a church of its own since 1865, was set off as a separate parish. In March, 1888, St. Joseph's Church was built on Common street, Belmont, for the Catholics of that town.

"In September of the same year a school for girls was opened on Chestnut street, Arlington, opposite the church. The school is in the charge of the Sisters of St. Joseph. In June, 1891, Father Shahan was transferred to the Sacred Heart Parish in Malden, which he founded, and where he died in 1902.

"The present pastor, Rev. John M. Mulcahy, is a native of Salem, where he was born in 1851. He was ordained in Troy, N. Y., in 1875. As assistant he was in the Gate of Heaven Church, South Boston, until July, 1885, when he was appointed pastor of St. Mary's Church, Franklin. June, 1891, he was assigned to the charge of the Arlington parish.

"In August, 1900, the town of Belmont was set off and made a separate parish, and now the Arlington priests minister to the Catholics of this town only.

"The church was enlarged and remodeled in 1900, and rededicated under the patronage of St. Agnes, by which name it is now known. The ceremony of dedication was performed by Most Rev. John J. Williams, Archbishop of Boston, October 28, 1900, assisted by the local clergymen and about sixty others from different parts of the state. Rt. Rev. Monsignor Thomas Magennis of Jamaica Plain preached the dedication sermon, and at the vesper service the sermon was delivered by Rev. Arthur T. Connolly of Boston. At both services most of the leading citizens of the town assisted, non-Catholics as well as Catholics.

"The Catholics of the town now number three thousand five hundred souls, more than one third of the total population.

"The present pastor is Rev. John M. Mulcahy, and Rev. Joseph P. Lawless and Rev. Edward F. Crowley, assistants.

Rapid Growth

Since the days of which Father Mulcahy writes, the parish has grown rapidly with the growth of the town, until today 54% of the population are followers of this traditional faith. There have been set off from St. Agnes' during these years, the parishes of St. James' at the Heights, Immaculate Conception, parts of which are in Arlington, Somerville and Cambridge, and St. Jerome's, partly in Belmont. The attendance at masses at St. Agnes' and the activity of the various church societies are a measure of the continued devotion of the members of the original parish and of the increase in their numbers.

The school has kept pace with the growth of the church. When Rev. Matthew J. Flaherty came to St. Agnes' as pastor in 1914, this became one of his chief interests. In September, 1925, he opened the present magnificent new school, the pupils moving from the two small dwelling houses which had served as convent and school, and in 1938 added eight new classrooms because of the increased enrollment. Now more than a thousand boys and girls are taken through the junior high school grades. It is Father Flaherty's hope that the addition of a senior high school may be not long delayed.

It was in 1920 that Father Flaherty bought the Rawson house for a convent and in 1939 renovated and enlarged it into a beautiful home for the sisters.

Mass for Sisters and Children

On Friday morning, Father Flaherty celebrated a solemn high mass for the Sisters and children of St. Agnes'. The sermon was preached by Rev. John O'Reilly, C.P., Ph.D., a native son young priest of the parish who is professor of philosophy at St. Gabriel's Monastery House of Studies.

Father Reardon expounded the Catholic way and philosophy of life. These, he said, entail four virtues—1. Religion, a mutual interdependence on God; 2. Patriotism, to grow up to be lovers and reverers of the country's traditions and teachings; 3. Piety, a virtue of the household and family life, including the fidelity of parents to their children and children to their parents; 4. Obedience, the practice of precepts in living for God, country and home.

He also congratulated the pastor, the priests and the people on the occasion and encouraged the children to remember they are the men and women; the religion of tomorrow. They must follow in the tempo set by the past for the Catholic Way of Living.

On Saturday morning a solemn high mass of requiem was celebrated by Monsignor Flaherty for the deceased of the parish.

Father Duffee extended his congratulations to the pastor, the curates and the people of the parish and spoke particularly of the priests and people of the past, through whose efforts and sacrifices the present situation has been realized. He explained that the church is not so much the edifice as the people who compose it as a religious society.

Today, he concluded, we reap the benefits of those who have gone on. We must prove true to tradition by living in our lives today and passing on to the future what we have received from the past.

Ushers were John B. Byrne, Jr., grand knight, Arlington Council, Knights of Columbus; John L. Murphy, president of St. Agnes St. Vincent de Paul Society; Patrick J. Coleman, president of the Holy Name Society; Edward J. Connor, president of the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine; Eugene Lawlor, director of C.Y.O.; George Wright, scoutmaster, Troop 7, Catholic Boy Scouts of America.

At eight o'clock Friday evening the Jubilee Ball took place in the Robbins Memorial Town Hall, which was attended by youth and the old in years but young in spirit, many of whom participated in every dance. The Bartholomew Orchestra of twelve pieces was excellent, playing such rhythms as were fitting for this occasion.

The Grand March at ten o'clock was impressively conducted by the orchestra leader, Bartholomew Connors, director of the ball, who is a member of the parish, and was led by Marshal and Mrs. Frank Crotty and aides—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forrest, Jack and Miss Katherine Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Weiss, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Howe and Mr. and Mrs. James McMurrer. At the close of the march, Father Flaherty was escorted to the stage where he was presented with a magnificent basket of flowers by Past Commander Charles Tynan, a gift from the American Legion. The Father responded in his usual humorous, happy vein, claiming he deserved the pity of all. "Nowadays," said he, "children are the bosses of their parents and curates are the bosses of their pastor. I have been bossed all week by that wonderful man, Father Durocher, who has arranged every event connected with the Festival so smoothly. I have not recovered yet from that wonderful service at the church yesterday, which he supervised." He continued: "Fifty-eight years ago I was ordained. Turn these figures about and you have my age—85. Please adopt me to your hearts now for the few days I have remaining."

His Excellency Archbishop Cushing presides at Pontifical Mass. Seated with the Archbishop are left to right, Rev. Maurice J. O'Connor, D.D., pastor of St. James' Church; Rev. Michael Manning, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church; Rev. Joseph Fitzgibbons, pastor of St. Jerome's Church. Standing, Monsignor Walter J. Furlong, Chancellor of the Archdiocese of Boston.

Archbishop Cushing imparts benediction at the close of the colorful and impressive ceremonies of the Pontifical Mass. Assisted by former curates of St. Agnes' Parish, His Excellency prays, "May the blessings of God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Ghost, descend upon you and remain with you always. Amen."
